IASAS Basketball Championships

HEAD OF SCHOOL'S WELCOME

Dear Athletes, Coaches, and Administrators,

On behalf of the ISB faculty and staff, I extend a very warm welcome to ISB and Thailand. I hope that we will be able to provide you with a memorable competition, an opportunity to make friends, and a glimpse of the very rich and diverse culture of our host country.

IASAS is the pinnacle of excitement in our school calendars and there are few better sights in the world than witnessing student-athletes compete to the best of their ability in a spirit of camaraderie and sportsmanship. We look forward to an exciting basketball competition and a good time had by all.

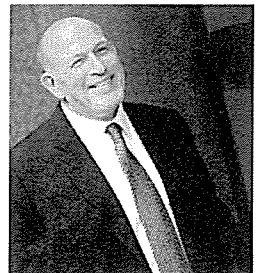

Basketball is one of the most exciting games in the world to watch as points are frequent, the team in the lead regularly changes, the victors often unclear even in last few minutes, and the skills and athleticism of the players breathtaking. I know we will have an exhilarating three days of IASAS basketball here at ISB.

It takes a village to host a successful IASAS and we must make sure we find the time to recognize those who contribute. Between games, a word of appreciation to Derrick Quinet, Mark Jaspers, Harold Albert, our athletics staff, your coaches, the parents who have opened their houses to you, ISB's Booster Club, and faculty volunteers will be most welcome.

If there is anything we can do to make your time here more enjoyable, please let us know and we will do our very best.

Yours in sport,

Dr. Andy Davies
ISB Head of School

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL'S WELCOME

Dear Athlete scholars, Coaches and Administrators,

On behalf of the ISB community, I would like to welcome you all to the 2018 IASAS Basketball tournament hosted here at our wonderful campus in Bangkok.

The end of season tournaments are wonderful opportunities for our collective school communities to come together in order to compete and to strive for ultimate success in the gold medal match on the Saturday afternoon. However, the purpose and meaning of this competition is much more than the final result and determining which team takes home the spoils at the end. To this end, I am so pleased to be part of the IASAS family of schools and continue in extending the friendships and partnerships that our schools and athletes already share. There is healthy respect and admiration for excellent play on the court, yet the importance of sportsmanship, teamwork, enjoying playing the game, coping with defeat as well as victory should not be underplayed.

In advance of the first tip off I would like to extend my congratulations to all student athletes who have committed many hours to their teams and coaches in the preparations for this tournament. The sweat, hard work, scrimmages, pre competition games and free throw shot practices that you and your teammates have been working on for the past few months are now rewarded with the opportunity to play and compete at IASAS. Play hard, fair and above all ensure that your sportsmanship shines through in your actions both on and off the court.

I would like to extend my thanks to the coaches of each and every team for their collective efforts and hard work in preparing these fine young men and women for the spirit of competition and for representing their schools with pride. Team sports such as basketball require strong and fair leadership and guidance and the way in which students play and compete is a reflection on the commitment, goodwill and spirit that their coaches have imparted to their team.

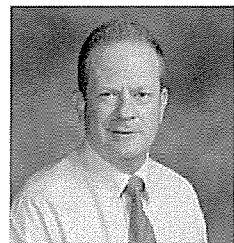

Thank you to the parents who are here to support their sons and daughters and their IASAS school throughout this competition. The support and encouragement that you have shown to your children in the lead up to this tournament should not be underestimated and deserves special thanks. Enjoy the successes and their achievements regardless of the final result in the standings and be rightfully proud of them and their contributions to their teams.

As you enjoy the games and the hospitality from ISB, please take a moment to recognise and thank those that have made this IASAS event possible. Derrick Quinet, Mark Jaspers, Harold Albert, Bob Connor, Site Directors Cameron & Lindsay Perry, Katie Caldwell and Joe Barnes, our fabulous building and grounds staff, coaches, host families and the ISB Booster club all deserve special thanks throughout the tournament so please find a moment to share your appreciation with them.

I will be following the ISB Panthers in their battles against the Eagles, Bear Cats, Tigers, Dragons and ISKL Panthers, but I will be sure to take a moment to recognise and enjoy the performances of all the athletes regardless of which school they represent.

Enjoy a great tournament.

Justin Alexander

IASAS History: 1982-2018

IASAS, the Interscholastic Association of Southeast Asia Schools, began in the fall of 1982. The seeds of the organization, however, were planted long before that with sports competitions that were arranged between many of the international schools in the Southeast Asia region. For example, Singapore American School (SAS) and International School Bangkok (ISB) participated in an annual, multi-sport event called the Singapore-Bangkok Games which started in 1961. In 1980, the International School of Kuala Lumpur (ISKL) asked to participate in this event, creating what then became known as the Triangular Games. Thus it was around this time that the idea of forming an international school athletic conference began to develop.

It was probably at an EARCOS Conference in Hong Kong in 1981 that the idea of forming IASAS became a reality. Primarily spear-headed by the Heads of School from ISKL - Gail Schoppert, SAS - Mel Kuhbander, and Jakarta International School (JIS) - Everett Gould, there was expressed a desire to create an international athletics conference in the region. This organization was to be modelled after a similar conference that was active in South Asia, SAISA, which was familiar to some of these gentlemen.

It wasn't too long after that that the Athletic Directors from schools in the region met at the old Singapore American School campus on Kings Road tasked with creating the organization. Participating in this meeting were the AD's from ISKL - Jim Baker, from SAS - K.S. Kasinathan, and from JIS - Jim Ryan. The result, as we now know, was IASAS, which formally started in October of 1982 with four schools: JIS, SAS, ISKL and ISB. International School Manila (ISM) joined the conference the very next year, while Taipei American School (TAS) joined the group in 1986, creating the six-school conference that has flourished ever since. Originally the idea was limited to athletics, but at the urging of a fine arts teacher from SAS, Richard Lewis, a cultural component was also instituted that very first school year.

In the early days the conventions included soccer & volleyball (first season), basketball & swimming (second season), softball & track and field (third season), as well as a cultural convention (dance, drama, debate, forensics, music and art) and even a mathematics competition. Over the years, various activities were added to the agenda, and today the wide-ranging IASAS activities include:

- 1st Season: Cross-Country, Soccer, Volleyball
- Model United Nations
- 2nd Season: Basketball, Rugby/Touch, Swimming, Tennis
- Cultural Convention: Art-Drama-Dance, Forensics-Debate, and Music
- 3rd Season: Badminton, Baseball/Softball, Track & Field, Golf
- Math Contest, Film Festival & Chess [non-travel activities]

For everyone involved, students, coaches, administrators, parents and community members alike, IASAS is one of the most memorable times of any school year. Now in its 36th year of existence and widely recognized as one of the premier international school activities and athletics conferences in the world, we can only thank those who came before and helped to create such a remarkable organization. We certainly hope that it will continue to prosper for many decades to come.
