Mabuhay! Welcome IASAS Swimming Athletes, Coaches and Supporters,

It is a great pleasure for International School Manila to host this year's IASAS Swimming Championships. We look forward to an exciting competition and to the friendly interactions and competitive rivalry between all IASAS teams.

I congratulate all swim team members on the hard work and dedication you have demonstrated to be selected for your school's team. The results of your preparation and efforts to date will be reflected in your individual and teams' performance over the next three days.

At ISM we value all the ethics of good sportsmanship. It is important to cheer hard and loud for your own team and also to appreciate the great performances that you will see from your fellow swimmers. Genuine congratulations and appreciation of great sporting effort(s) from individuals on opposing teams is a true reflection of an "athlete".

I would like to give a special thanks to all our ISM families that have volunteered to house the IASAS athletes. I would also like to recognize and give my special thanks to all those that have helped with the planning, organization and running of this IASAS event.

We hope that you enjoy the IASAS Swimming Championships in Manila 2014.

Yours in Sport,

Mark A. Pekin
Athletic & Activities Director

Mabuhay and Welcome to International School Manila

Dear IASAS Swimmers,

I would like to welcome our IASAS sister schools to IASAS Swimming 2014. ISM is very excited to be hosting this event. We are fortunate in that we have been able to make some significant improvements to the pool and the surrounding area and we hope this facilitates a very successful event for all, swimmers, coaches, parents and spectators. A colleague mentioned to me that they thought that IASAS Swimming was the toughest IASAS event, when you consider the time and preparation spent in the pool. All those countless lonely hours of dedication and training and it all comes down to a few seconds or minutes at IASAS. Not everyone will win, not everyone will make the finals, but I was reminded about the value of IASAS Swimming by the following quote:

"When I go out and race, I'm not trying to beat opponents, I'm trying to beat what I have done ... to beat myself, basically. People find that hard to believe because we've had such a bias to always strive to win things. If you win something and you haven't put everything into it, you haven't actually achieved anything at all. When you've had to work hard for something and you've got the best you can out of yourself on that given day, that's where you get satisfaction from." Ian Thorpe

It is our hope that everyone will leave this event very satisfied. Satisfied with their race, their personal bests, the new friendships they make and the spirit of IASAS that endures in the water as well!

As is usual in these events, they do not just miraculously occur and I want to publicly thank and acknowledge Mr. Pekin and his excellent team for organizing this event.

Good luck and all the best in your search for satisfaction.

William Brown
High School Principal.

In case of an injury or illness resulting outside of the tournament, students should call ISM (during the school day) and talk to one of the school administrators. If it is after school hours, they should contact the tournament director immediately, as listed in the program. Also, notification to the host family should be made.

IASAS Swimming FINA Points Award Given to the Male and Female swimmer with the highest point score in any individual event

Overview

The FINA Points Table allows comparison of results among different events. The FINA Point Scoring assigns point values to swimming performances, more points for world class performances typically 1000 or more and fewer points for slower performances.

Points values are assigned every year. The charts have one set of points for Short Course and another for Long Course. The scoring is named by the year after when the base times were defined, e.g. "FINA Point Scoring 2010".

Formula

The points are calculated using a cubic curve. With the swim time (T) and the base time (B) in seconds the points (P) are calculated with the following formula:

$$P = 1000 * (B / T)^3$$

The exact formula is used to calculate points from times. Then all point values are truncated to the integer number. In point tables named with years 2009 and earlier, the point values are rounded.

If the needed time (T) for a certain number of points (P) should be calculated, the exact formula is used to calculate a first estimation. Then the time should be reduced by one hundredth of a second as long as the reverse calculation with the time still results in the original number of points.

Base times for 1000 points

The base times are defined for all common individual events and relays, separated for men / women and long course / short course.

The base times are defined every year, based on the latest World Record that was approved by FINA. For short course (SCM) the base times are defined with the cut of date of August 31st. For long course (LCM) the base times are defined at the end of the year (December 31st). For "FINA Point Scoring 2010" this means for example: Short course times until 31 Aug 2010, long course times until 31 Dec 2009.

The base times are published on the FINA website within one month after the end of the relevant period.

Tools and documentation

The following tools for the FINA Point Scoring are available on the FINA website:

- A standalone application, which allows to calculate points for single times and to printout tables with points and needed times for standard events.
- The point scoring tables as PDF documents for the point range of 800 to 1100 points.
- The table with all base times for the different events are available as Excel sheet.
