ISB JIS ISM ISKLSAS TAS

WELCOME SWIMMERS, COACHES, AND GUESTS!

It is a great pleasure for Taipei American School to host this year's IASAS 25th Annual Swimming Championship. There are few sports that physically challenge athletes more than competitive swimming, and we have always viewed swimmers as a special breed of athlete. While most of our students are still sleeping in the morning, swimmers are in the pool training! Swimmers have a special character and fortitude that allows them to constantly test their abilities as well as their will to go faster. The training and dedication of swimmers are legendary among the annals of sport.

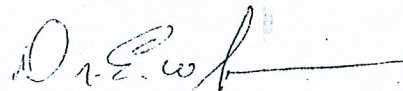

But it is not only the dedication and physical attributes that set swimmers apart. In a sport that is so individual in nature, swimmers appear to have a bond as teammates that is extraordinary. Few IASAS teams display more team and school spirit than the swim teams. For this reason, we expect not only record breaking performances in the pool over the next three days, but we expect the pool to be a tempest of excitement and anticipation. Swimmers may not be the only individuals wearing earplugs throughout the tournament; spectators may muffle the noise of the pool with earplugs as well.

At TAS, we value the competition provided by IASAS and we cherish the friendships forged in sports. Cheer your loudest, swim your hardest, savor victory, and understand defeat. As one great coach once said, "Our greatest opponent is our own potential." We expect that all of you will compete well against the opponent within as well as the opponent in the next lane.

We want to give a special thanks to all our TAS families who have volunteered to house our athletes. The spirit and tradition of IASAS is dependent on such generosity from our parents. We also want to thank the TAS PTA who have kindly given the financial support for us to purchase and install our new timing system.

Have a great IASAS! Enjoy the environs of TAS and Tien MU! And swim hard, well, and fast!

All the best,

Dr. Eric Sands
Upper School Principal
