INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL MANILA

20 April 2006

Dear IASAS Track & Field Athletes and Supporters,

Of all the wonderful competitions that IASAS engenders, Track and Field is, perhaps, the one that epitomizes the kind of spirit and camaraderie that the tournament founders must have imagined more than twenty years ago when the principles behind IASAS were first being fleshed out.

For sheer size and splendor, Track and Field holds sway, but for me its magic lies in the variety of challenges and contests that one sees over these three days: school against school; teams against teams in the various relay events; individuals against individuals - in many cases renewing battles that have unfolded over two or three or four high school years.

There are blue riband events like the 100 meters or the 1500 meters; there are less celebrated parts of the program like the shot put or the triple jump - and yet all of them provide a wonderful piece of theater for competitors and spectators alike.

Of all the demonstrations of physical talent and achievement, at the heart are the ur-skills of running, jumping and throwing - and these you will see aplenty between now and Saturday evening.

You will also see from our young athletes joy and despair, energy and exhaustion, pain and stoicism and most of all, I hope, the kind of sportsmanship that allows one to feel for others in their moment of disappointment, to wear one's triumph lightly, to experience pleasure at another's victory, to enjoy the collective success of six great schools.

David Toze
Superintendent

INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL MANILA

Dear IASAS Track & Field Athletes, Coaches and Supporters,

Mabuhay!

Welcome to the Philippines, ISM Campus, and to the IASAS Track & Field Tournament! International School Manila is pleased to host track and field for the first time here at our new home in Fort Bonifacio. Our organizers have done their utmost to assure that the event is a safe and memorable experience for all of us.

At International School Manila we are aware and appreciative of the positive impact IASAS tournaments have on the host school. These events have a wonderful way of pulling our community, school and students closer together and develop relationships among the players and coaches from the IASAS schools. The relationships, sometimes enduring as lifetime friendships, are critical to the success of all IASAS events.

The IASAS Track & Field Tournament will focus on the value of athletic competition. I challenge all athletes to give 100% effort, win with class, and lose with dignity for it is the combination of the above that is the measure of the athlete. This is your time to be on center stage. To each of you as an individual, as a member of your team, and as a representative of your school, my hope is that during the coming tournament you will be the best you can be. Win or lose, if you reach your peak level of performance you can ask for no more, as you will have done your very best. Enjoy the tournament, our campus, and the hospitality of International School Manila.

Sincerely,

Michael Martell
-High School Principal
